AMERICANS IN MEXICO.
THE NEW CEMENT PLANT.
COAL, GOLD, SILVER.
ANY HEAVEN FOR DONKEYS.
—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

HERMOSILLO, STATE OF SONORA, MEXICO, Feb. 23.—It may interest you to see United States citizens, working with Mexican associates and employers, installing American machinery on Mexican soil. Across the Sonora river, opposite this city, is a long, high mountain of solid limestone, and at its foot unlimited supplies of good clay. American engineers have called the raw materials perfect for cement, and sufficient in quantity to supply a big plant for about 900 years.

In six to eight weeks, a modern American plant, only cement factory on the west coast of Mexico, will begin production.

The MacDonald Engineering Co. of Chicago has the general contract for the works. The big firm, reaching out for business in the American west, is also installing in Russia, cement plants as big as any on earth. William Reynolds, who comes from Stockton, Calif., is in general charge of construction for MacDonald. He is a blue-eyed young person, representing his country well.

George Beck is installing a 1,000-horsepower Diesel plant for the Worthington Co. of Buffalo, N. Y. These latest Diesel machines run themselves with a man to look at them occasionally. Mr. Kingsbury of California will supply them with fuel oil, and is installing storage tanks for the purpose at Guaymas, nearest west coast port.

You see the California Standard oil sign all over this country. H. B. Titcomb, president of Southern Pacific of Mexico, has run his tracks to the new plant. He will carry the oil and haul the cement. J. G. Dean, engineer and chemist from Long Beach, California, will run the plant, and is supervising construction for the Mexican citizens that own it, and will make excellent profits.

Cement brought in from the United States costs $1.60 a sack here, with freight and tariff. The cement can be made for 35 cents a sack, about one-fifth of the present cost.

The high development of American industry and American engineering genius is shown in the fact that everything in this plant is United States made, nothing from Europe, although freights from there are cheaper. The electrical equipment is all made by Westinghouse. The General Electric Co. must have been asleep. It includes many electric motors, one that runs the dry mill, of 300 horsepower and very high torque, is not much bigger than a moderate sized wash tub. Its power is applied through a speed reducing machine ingeniously contrived.

The cement making machinery proper, kilns, crushers, mills, etc., comes from the Traylor Co. of Allentown, Pennsylvania. Mexico, as you see, is helping to meet industrial payrolls in many parts of the United States, and American workmen might remember that, when they hear objection to Mexican workmen that do, in America, railroad and other work that United States citizens will not do.

Y. & O. RAILROAD ON BLOCK AGAIN AT COURTHOUSE

Seventh Attempt Will Be Made Tuesday To Sell Properties

REPORTS MENTION MONTGOMERY COMPANY

Chicago Group Understood To Be Ready To Submit Bids

The 38-mile Youngstown and Ohio River railroad, linking East Liverpool with Salem, will be placed on the auction block for the seventh time within a period of less than six months at Lisbon Tuesday.

Bids are expected from a Chicago, Ill., group, Y. & O. officials stated today. The upset price, set by Judge W. F. Lones at $240,000 after it had undergone several reductions, having been set aside. The line, according to reports, will be operated by the Chicago concern, if its bid is accepted, for the benefit of the bond owners' protective union which controls all but $25,000 of the $1,200 in outstanding securities on the road.

Automobile Hits Business

Inability to compete successfully with motor trucks and buses, increased maintenance costs and loss of business through suspension of operations in the West Point coal mines are given by officials as reasons for the road's sudden financial collapse. The railroad was constructed as a steam line 22 years ago and was later electrified for interurban trolley service.

The company's holdings include 38 miles of main line railroad with many sidings, all but eight miles of which are on private right of way. The company also operates a powerhouse at West Point and has sub-stations in Salem, Leetonia, East Liverpool and Lisbon.

Built originally as a competitor of the Pennsylvania railroad, the Y. & O. connects with the Erie railroad with Washingtonville as the out-letting point. Freight is accepted for all points served by Erie railroad.

Montour Is Mentioned

J. D. Deveses of Salem is special master and receiver for the railroad. He was also president of the company for many years.

The railroad may yet play an important role, for reports, although denied, persist that the Montour company, which twice has been refused permission by the interstate commerce commission to build a branch road from Mill Rock, O., near Youngstown, through Columbiana county to the Ohio river at East Liverpool, has its eye on the line.

The Y. & O. might offer a solution to the problem of the Montour interests which seek a river outlet

BANDIT JAILED IN GUN BATTLE

Barnesville Man Arrested After Thrilling Chase Through City

(By Associated Press)
BARNESVILLE, O., Feb. 23.—Wounded after a desperate running gun fight in which armed citizens of this village aided police, Lonnie Taylor, 24, and two of his companions were held here today for authorities of Knoxville, Tenn.

Taylor was deceived here by a fake letter bearing the name of his young bride of a year, along with Bertha Ann, 24, and H. S. Smith, 26, all wanted on robbery charges.

Smith and the woman were arrested at a hotel without trouble but Taylor barricaded himself in the bathroom of his wife's home when Chief of Police C. C. Bulger and three patrolmen entered.

Battering down the door, the officers met a fusillade of bullets, one of them ripping the chief's cap from his head, and in the confusion Taylor leaped from a second story window. He seized an automobile and went speeding down the street in a hail of bullets from citizens who had hastily armed themselves and waited at street corners.

More than 100 shots were fired, but Taylor was unscathed. A mile from town, however, his car failed to make a curve and he was killed and wounded in the shoulder. Taylor's wife, who said she did not know he was wanted, was not held.

Charge Dismissed

LISBON, Feb. 23.—As a result of conflicting testimony offered at the trial of Victor Harris of Pittsburgh, Pa., before Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, the charge of possessing liquor was dismissed.

Harris was arrested last fall by Constable Clyde Birch of St. Clair township, but the evidence, offered by the complaining witness was not sufficient to warrant a conviction. Harris has been at liberty on bond.

DRY DEMOCRATS AWAIT SESSION OF COMMITTEE

Gird For Aggressive Try at Squelching Any Wet Plans

SESSION WILL BE HELD IN CAPITAL

Future Policies To Be Discussed, Says Chairman Raskob

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Whatever intentions chairman Raskob may or may not have in regard to lining up the Democratic national committee on the wet side of the prohibition fence, dry members of the group are set for an aggressive try at squelching any such plan.

The committee will meet here March 5, at the chairman's call.

Will Discuss Policies

Future policies, he announced, will form a topic for discussion. Rumors have been current a resolution is being framed to push this steering group of the party off the prohibition fence. The rumors have not been denied.

Some of the dry Democrats on Capitol Hill have been aroused to a fever heat of activity. Yesterday Senator Morrison, North Carolina, asserted his group had sufficient votes to defeat any wet resolution. Other Democratic leaders in congress are trying to head off the issue by having the rumored resolution shelved now.

Senator George, of Georgia, has joined this group, asserting the committee has no right to form party policies, a function he holds belongs to the national convention. This view has been communicated to the chairman. Incidentally the active drys count upon the support of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, in a pinch. He was running mate of Alfred E. Smith on the 1928 ticket and is party leader in the senate.

Tariff Issue Uncovered

While prohibition engrossed most of the agitated Democrats, Representative Hull, of Tennessee, came forward yesterday with an expression of concern that an undercover effort was impending to give the party committee a high tariff program. Recently he called upon the party to assert a vigorous stand opposed to Republican tariff policies.

The impending meeting has brought out a crop of presidential candidates. Most of these being named are far from dry.

Governor Roosevelt of New York remains the most discussed possibility here, but the names of Governor Ritchie of Maryland, and Senator-elect James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, are among those being advanced.

MRS. STRATTON, 89, PARTY GUEST

Little Gene Howell, Also Honored, Has 5 Grandmothers Present

Mrs. Elizabeth Stratton, well known Salem resident, and her great grandson, Gene Howell, were honor guests at a family dinner Sunday given by Mr. and Mrs. John Stratton at their home on Washington ave.

Sunday was Mrs. Stratton's 89th birthday anniversary, and Gene's fifth birthday was a few days ago. The table was enhanced with a decorative motif of pink and white and there was a large birthday cake ornamented with pink candles.

This was an unusual gathering owing to the fact there were four generations present, represented on three sides of the family.

Little Gene had five grandmothers at his party. Mrs. Elizabeth Stratton, 89, Mrs. Hannah Ashman, 79, formerly of Leetonia, who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Jones, Euclid st.; Mrs. John Stratton, and Mrs. Fred Howell of Canton, formerly of Salem.

The four generations in the families include: Mrs. Stratton, her son, John Stratton, who is manager of the Peoples Lumber company here; Mrs. Carl Howell, and Gene; Mrs. Knutti, Mrs. John Stratton, Mrs. Carl Howell and Gene; Mrs. Hannah Ashman, Mrs. Fred Howell, Carl Howell and Gene. These families are well known in the city. Mr. Howell of Canton, was also in the company.

State Denies Claim

LISBON, Feb. 23.—The State Industrial Commission has denied the claim of Harvey Stoddard, an employee of the Harker Pottery Co., at East Liverpool, and notice of appeal to common pleas court has been filed with Clerk of Courts John A. Noble.

Stoddard was injured while in the employ of the pottery company, and his claim for compensation was refused.

AWAITING VERDICT OF CHICAGO VOTERS

BANDITS SHOOT POLICEMAN WHO HALTS ROBBERY

Patrolman Foils Railroad Safe-Cracking; Receives Leg Wound

(By Brush-Moore Leased Wire)
SALINEVILLE, Feb. 23.—Merchant's Policeman Rowland Vashinder, 28, was shot through the left leg at 4 a. m. today by robbers when he surprised them after they had blown the outer door from the safe in the Pennsylvania railroad passenger and freight station near Main street.

The robbers, forced to abandon the job before they obtained any loot, fled, presumably in an automobile. Villagers did not know in which direction they went.

The safe-crackers fired five shots at Vashinder who rushed to the station when a charge of nitro glycerine was set off.

The bone in Vashinder's leg was shattered, and he was removed to the East Liverpool hospital where he underwent an operation.

THREE DIE WHEN TRAIN HITS CAR

Members of Family Killed Sunday At Springfield Crossing; Four Others Injured

SPRINGFIELD, O., Feb. 23.—A railroad crossing accident cost the lives of three members of a family and caused injuries to four others yesterday.

ARMY OF 70,000 WILL GUARD AS CHICAGO VOTES

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Feb. 23.—An army of 70,000 today made plans to maintain order in tomorrow's mayoralty and aldermanic primaries, with reports already before them of pre-election violence.

Reports came from the Eighth and Thirtieth wards and told of an attempt on the life of Theodore Clifford, a candidate for alderman of two sluggings and two kidnappings. Clifford reported that two shots had been fired at him from another automobile as he rode in his own car last night. He was slightly hurt by flying glass broken when a bullet shattered the windshield of his machine.

As primary day approached there was speculation about Alphonse Capone, the gang leader. Rumors had it that he was in Chicago.

Meanwhile Mayor William Hale Thompson, Judge John H. Lyle, who issued a vagrancy warrant for Capone's arrest, Arthur F. Albert and George K. Schmidt, planned the windup of their fight for the Republican mayoralty nomination. None of them called for police guards.

Four meetings were scheduled at this session, as follows: May, at Bayard grange hall; August, at Butler; November, at Lisbon; February, 1932, at Unity.

Three candidates were obligated at the business session.

The flag service which has been planned as a special feature for the granges this year will be presented at Perry grange hall, Franklin road, on March 4, by members of Pomona Grange. On March 13 this service will be held at West Point grange.

STATE IS PAID FOR KILLING OF CORPORAL PAUL

Blond Gunwoman Pale But Unflinching As End Nears

ONLY CHAPLAIN'S VOICE IS HEARD

Dague's Former Pastor Accompanies Him To Death Chamber

BY L. R. LINDGREN
Associated Press Writer
ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, PA., Feb. 23.—Calm and collected, Irene Schroeder and Walter Glenn Dague went to their deaths in the electric chair at Rockview penitentiary today just after break of dawn.

The state claimed of them the supreme price for the killing of a guardian of its highways.

The woman went to the chair first, at 7 a. m. One contact was made and she was pronounced dead at 7:05.

Dague was placed in the chair at 7:08 and five minutes later was pronounced dead.

Closes Her Eyes

Mrs. Schroeder's face was pale, almost ghastly, except for a slight bit of rouge on either cheek, as she was brought into the death chamber. Her eyes were open until she was seated in the death chair, then she closed them and kept them closed until the death hood was placed over her head.

Dague came in with steady stride and as he sat down in the chair, gazed left and right at the witnesses. Then the hood was adjusted and the electric contact was made while the prison chaplain still was offering up a prayer for the condemned.

Neither slayer spoke, nor was any word spoken to them.

The woman who once wielded a gun with her gunman lover in mercenary, bloodshed, was as unflinching at her doom as ever she had been during her days of banditry and subsequent flight and fight for life.

Remains "Iron Irene"

"Iron Irene," they termed her at her trial. "Iron Irene" she was until the end. The spirit that bore her up when the jury in the Lawrence county courts pronounced death as her sentence, held with her as she walked into the grim chamber of death and surrendered her life for the life of Corporal Brady Paul, of the state highway patrolman who died on December 27, 1929.

She was clad in a gray, artificial silk dress, loose and poorly fitting. She wore blue stockings and black slippers. The hair was clipped away from the back of her head at a spot where an electrode was attached.

With a guard holding either arm and a matron preceding her, the woman walked into the death chamber, apparently not needing the slight support the guards gave.

RAGING TEMPEST STRIKES SICILY

At Least Six Dead; Transportation Disrupted; Ships In Distress

(By International News Service)
PALERMO, SICILY, Feb. 23.—A raging tempest struck towns and villages in Western Sicily today, taking a toll of at least six lives.

Torrential rains accompanied by winds of hurricane force caused tremendous damage, disrupting transportation and communication facilities and seriously hampering shipping.

ROME, Feb. 23.—At least a dozen ships have wireless or otherwise signalled their distress in the death dealing storms of increasing violence gripping Mediterranean countries.

Of these, the most important so far reported was the British 2,500-ton steamer, Baron Sempill, reported sinking 112 miles south of Marsailles.

Valley Forge

HOLLYWOOD, CAL., Feb. 23.—Here is what George Washington missed by not living in his 199th birthday.

He would have seen our great political system of "equal rights to all and privileges to none" working so smoothly that seven million are without a chance to earn their living.

He would see 'em handing out rations in peace time. That would have reminded him of Valley Forge.

In fact, we have reversed the old system. We all get fat in war times and thin during peace. I bet after seeing us, he would sue us for calling him "father."

ILLUSTRIOUS PATRIOT

The birthday of George Washington this year finds the nation which he helped to found engaged in preparation to commemorate the 200th anniversary of his birth in 1932 with extraordinary ceremony.

A national celebration to last from Feb. 22 to the end of the year is planned. An extensive project, planned and financed by the federal government, will honor Washington in many material ways in the vicinity of the national capital. The Washington bicentennial commission has been at work for upward of a year on the project.

But Washington's birthday, this year, next year, in years to come and in years past, is chiefly the opportunity to pay tribute to America's most illustrious patriot. Carrying that tribute to its logical development, the birthday is an occasion to ponder fundamental principles of government as George Washington saw them.

In 1931 it seems fitting to single out one quality for special consideration—faith that the nation has the ability and the will to work out its destiny successfully. George Washington, remarkably versatile and steeped in the traditions of aristocracy, gave without stint to the cause of establishing a new nation founded in the interests of the hitherto unprivileged classes. He offered his career, his property, his every talent and even his life to it. He overcame opposition, walked upright through discouraging and carping criticism, and challenged the greatest nation in the world because he had faith that he was right. Illustrious patriot—not in the sense of flag-waving and drum-beating, but in the sense of undying devotion to principles his intelligence told him merited support.

If America today needs to be reminded of one quality among its founders more than another, it needs to be reminded of their courageous faith. Though the army was in tatters, the population torn by factionalism, the prospect of the future clouded by a thousand misgivings, Washington and his compatriots stood by their convictions and founded a nation that stands in the first rank of all nations of all time at the end of a century and a half. The faith that stated America and has brought it this far can do more. It must by no means be allowed to lapse.

HOW ABOUT A BOND ISSUE?

It has been estimated that the total cash which will be required by the federal treasury if all veterans apply for loans of 50 per cent of the face value of their adjusted compensation certificates is approximately $1,380,000,000. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, despite his pointed opposition to passage of the veteran's loan bill, must devise a way to raise such a sum.

The enormity of the task is best realized by considering that the annual sale of new issues of stock and bonds in the United States during recent years has been between six and seven billion dollars. If the treasury department were to issue new long-term securities on a basis of say $1,000,000,000 from 12 to 15 per cent of the national capital ordinarily available for purchase of securities would be absorbed. Unless America could find money to buy 15 per cent more stocks and bonds than usual other issues would go begging.

There are, however, some economists who believe that American banks, under present conditions, would welcome a large issue of government bonds. Their eagerness to place funds in securities of unquestioned soundness is indicated by the fact that they have been buying short term treasury notes at prices which would yield a return of less than 1 per cent. In May, 1919, inidentally, treasury notes were selling at prices to yield 5.09 per cent.

Another indication that the bond market might absorb the shock of a large issue is the fact that state and municipal bonds have been purchased by banks in large volume, the member banks of the federal reserve system alone investing $263,000,000 in such securities during the 11 months preceding the last published call report. Both indications, however, lack the power to be convincing.

The federal government itself of course would be most vitally affected by a glutted bond market. It has been treasury policy to retire bonds bearing high interest rates with issues requiring low interest, and the time has come to pursue such a policy in regard to first Liberty bonds, $1,923,345,750 of which are callable in June, 1932. A total of $6,268,241,150 of fourth Liberty loan bonds are callable in October, 1933. Secretary Mellon has requested legislation to authorize issuance of $8,000,000,000 to retire Liberty bonds.

It is a difficult problem of financing that has been laid in his lap by congress. As times goes on and its full portent is better understood the country may be made to realize more clearly why veterans' loan legislation was opposed by certain level heads in congress, among them Dwight Morrow, whose understanding of finance is unquestioned.

What Others Say

NOT PRIVILEGED TO BE LAWFLESS

Boys who are fortunate enough to go to college enjoy many privileges that the majority must forego, but they have no claim to the privilege of indulging in lawless disorder.

In New York City, recently, a band of students of City college, after holding a smoker, rushed into subway trains without paying, incidentally smashed more or less glass on their way down town, carried some of the traction company's signs away with them, and then crashed their way into a theater.

They were finally haled to a police station, and last Saturday their cases came to trial. The City College Alumni association had a bevy of lawyers on hand to plead for them, and the theater had been persuaded to send its attorney into court with a request that the whole matter be forgotten. But the magistrate rebuked the apparent attempt to "fix" the case of these 47 students, and instead upon treating them just like ordinary rogues. They had to pay $25 each for their fun, or $1,175 for the bunch, and it is to be hoped that they got a lesson in decent citizenship which will be worth at least that much to them for the future.

Leniency of magistrates towards offending college students, because they are students is a serious mistake. It may make the magistrate popular, but it is anything else than a benefit to the student—Columbus Dispatch.

DETROIT — A screech owl that seems to enjoy music was reported by Thomas M. Smith. "Every evening when we turn on the radio," Smith said, "the owl comes and perches on the railing of the front porch and appears to be listening. As soon as we turn the radio off he leaves. Opening the window doesn't bother him but if we open the door he flies away."

Modern Surgery in Boils

In the good old days, the victim of a boil was treated at home. Grandmother would apply a bread and milk poultice to bring the boil to a head. There was a great dread of the knife in those times. Even the doctor hated to use it. The simple measures were depended upon by everybody.

Modern surgery does not depend on these remedies of long ago. Experience has taught us that if a boil appears, we are dealing with an infection. To get rid of the first boil and to avoid a series of them, we must remove the infection.

In some cases the quickest and safest way to deal with the boil is by means of an incision. This is no longer the simple lancing of the days long gone. A wide opening is made so as to insure drainage of all the accumulated pus.

Most of us fear the scalpel or knife just as much as our ancestors did. But instead of fearing this little operation, we should respect it for the great aid and relief it gives. Sometimes boils terminate in abscesses, which require more radical surgery. This complication is usually the penalty of delay. Fussing with useless poultices has oftened the tissues and encouraged germ growth. An abscess is the natural result.

It is not necessary that every boil should be opened. But it is certain that poultices should not be applied to these infections.

Above all things do not squeeze a boil. The most dangerous thing you can do is to squeeze it. By doing so, you break the defensive wall that nature has thrown up around the boil. When you destroy this, you produce an abscess, which may do serious harm.

In cases where infection is present, but the pus is deep seated, it is wise to apply heat. This is best done by applications of gauze dipped in hot boric acid solution and kept hot by placing a hot water bag over it.

The effect of this treatment is to reduce the pain and localize the pus. Then it may be opened.

This is spoken of as bringing the boil to a head. If you continue with the hot applications, the pus will escape without squeezing. If poultices are applied, there will result a nipped-on-ring, with great chance of the infection spreading.

To those individuals who are affected with numerous boils modern medicine offers the use of a vaccine. These vaccines are of two kinds. The so-called "stock vaccine" is used or a vaccine made out of the pus obtained from the patient's boil.

Boils are never to be ignored and played with. I have known of serious results following the improper care of the common everyday boil.

NEW YORK Day by Day

by O.O. McIntyre

NEW YORK Feb. 23—Diary of a modern Popsy. Early out to buy some gut homing which, properly prepared, is the finest breakfast I know. And a pleasant note from Charles M. Schwab that he has not forgotten me as I recently chronicled and named the circumstances of our meeting years ago.

Came news, too, that young Clayton Seltz is to marry a San Francisco maid and live in Manila. So dawdling over my papers, and with my wife to buy a stand for the Rockwood vase from Frank Rockwood. Then to the Chatham to Kathleen and Charles Norris's tea. In the evening Mrs. Sharpe and Mrs. Hogg to dinner. They to "Mrs. Moonlight" and we to "Private Lives" paying $18 for two seats to see a $3.85 show, no did I have the feeling of being sipped. So home to reading my autographed copy of "Stage Struck John Golden" until 4 a. m.

Incidentally, ten years ago Noel Coward was pinning away in a New York hotel room next to mine unable to land a job. Today in a penthouse castle he insists all interviews be submitted before publication or he won't talk. That sort! But a talented egg.

Manhattan vignette: A shivering five-piece band playing "Happy Days Are Here Again" in a forlorn tenement court.

An effort is being quietly made to have neglected New York remember illustrious poets, writers and artists in street names. Ferryboats, highways and a few streets are honored with names of sundry Tammany politicians, but only slight recognition for creative artists.

There is a tiny square for Poe because his house happened to be there. But the effort now is to change the names of certain streets so they will immortalize Theodore Dreiser, George Gray Barnard.

MELBA'S GOLDEN VOICE SILENCED AS DEATH COMES

Famous Prima Donna, 71, Succumbs In Native Australia

(By Associated Press)

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA, Feb. 23.—The curtain was rung down today on the life of Dame Nellie Melba, one of the purest sopranos grand opera has ever known, after weeks abed with a strange illness which baffled her physicians.

Seventy-one years old, the famous prima donna for several days had fought a losing battle with a skin malady picked up in Egypt and aggravated by a long journey home from Europe before Christmas and the extreme heat of the Australian summer.

Disregards Physicians
Friends believed she hastened her own end with insistence upon spending Christmas in her native Australia, disregarding the advice of her physicians in Europe under whose treatment she was growing better. She became ill again aboard ship and had to enter a hospital at Sydney before proceeding to Melbourne.

She was happy, however, in spending almost her last days in Melbourne, near where she was born and from which she took her stage name, Melba. Her real name was Nellie Porter Mitchell, changed by her marriage in 1882 to Armstrong.

Known to all the world as the successor to Patti and Jenny Lind, Melba sang last in America at the New York Metropolitan in Faust in 1917-18, and after that was seldom heard in public. She was said to have retained the purity, sweetness and flexibility of her voice almost until the time of her death.

Most Famous Roles
Her most famous roles were as Gilda in Rigoletto, Violetta in La Traviata and Lucia. Although critics were lavish in their praise they sometimes complained of her coldness as an actress.

Her life with Captain N. F. Armstrong, her husband, was not entirely happy.

She was made a dame of the British empire in 1922 in recognition of her war work and on King George's birthday in 1927 she received the Grand Cross of the order of the British empire.

for the Youngstown steel district. Surveys have been made from the Y. & O. freight station, in East Liverpool, along what is known as Carper's run to the river. Through the purchase of a small amount of private property and municipal permission for the construction of an overhead crossing in Eighth street, East Liverpool, the way would be opened to the river. The object would be to provide cheaper transportation rates for coal carried down the river by boat, then reloaded at proposed docks here.

Y. & O. Route Favored
Reports have prevailed that this route is favored over a private right of way along Beaver creek which empties into the Ohio river at Smiths Ferry, Pa., east of East Liverpool.

The fact that the Y. & O. also connects with the Youngstown & Southern railroad, running into Lungstown, at Leetonia, is another factor in the situation. The Y. & O. recently extended its freight line to tap a clay mining zone near Negley.

However, the Y. & O. officials are non-committal on the rumors. Dewese, who has been head of the company since its organization in 1908, is assisted by two Leetonia men, Auditor and General Passenger Agent J. J. Chandler and General Freight Agent L. A. Maple.

Near the mills that grind clinker and finally reduce the total product to dry cement powder are steel barrels in rows. They hold 65 tons of cast iron "pebbles," that roll around inside the cylindrical mills and do the grinding. That was all done, formerly, by flint pebbles from Denmark, and therefore the cast iron balls are called "pebbles."

All these high-grade American workers are paid, as the United States machinery is bought, with gold dollars, and when they return they will help Americans to understand Mexico better, and Mexican possibilities. But they are in no hurry to return.

Two Skaters Drown

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 23.—When thin ice broke under their weight as they played, Bernard Bevins and Charles Chernocorok, both 13, were drowned in a pond in an east-side cemetery yesterday.

Robert Yeager, 15, who attempted to save them, also fell in but managed to hold to an overflow pipe until help arrived.

CHERBOURG, France.—In partial payment of her reparations account to France, the German government has just delivered a motor tanker to the authorities here. The tanker, called the Elern, has a tonnage of 13,610 and will serve as a supply boat to naval units.

LAST PHOTO OF IRENE, ON WAY TO CHAIR

her. She walked into the brighter circle of light cast by a huge flood lamp over the chair and in the state's grim instrument of death the guards placed her and quickly fastened the straps binding her to it. The matron stepped aside to a wall of the chamber.

Chaplain's Voice Heard
As she sat, the woman's fingers trembled just a trifle. The only human voice in the cold, gray chamber was that of the chaplain offering up a prayer for the doomed woman.

The straps and death hood were adjusted, the vice of the chaplain whispered on, and even before he had completed his words the contact was made. The woman's body rose up against the straps that bound her, fists clenched, the body tense and struggling.

Robert Elliott, the state's executioner, was at the switches controlling the current. It was he who served as executioner of Ruth Snyder for the killing of her husband in New York state.

For five minutes Elliott kept the current on, operating the electric apparatus while his eyes watched the form in the chair. The body strained against the straps until Elliott deemed sufficient current to kill had passed through the body. Then the current was turned off and the body slumped against the back of the chair.

Love Better Than Best Career

Widespread comment was caused in Hollywood's movie circles when Edna Best, noted English actress, suddenly decided to do a walkout in the midst of her film work. Saying she was lonely for her husband, who was in New York, Miss Best deserted

The physicians stepped forward. One of them examined the woman and stepped aside. The other similarly made an examination. They looked at each other and one of them turned and faced the witnesses outside that circle of the huge flood lamp.

First Woman To Die
"Gentlemen, Irene Schroeder is dead," he said.
So died the first woman ever to be electrocuted for a crime in Pennsylvania.

The body was taken from the chair, placed on a wheeled stretcher and removed from the room. Something less than a minute later, the death chamber door opened again and admitted the Rev. H. O. Teggarden, and behind him Dague, flanked by a guard on either side. The minister was Dague's pastor in a church near Wheeling, W. Va., where Dague once was a Sunday school teacher.

Dague, grown stouter since the days when he first was caught in the meshes of the law, was clean shaven, his head clipped, and clad in a white shirt open at the throat, without a collar, and in dark trousers and black slippers.

He gazed steadily at the witnesses from side to side before the death hood was adjusted. Then followed the prayer of Rev. Mr. Teggarden, and the electric contact.

At 7:13 a. m., the physicians pronounced the man slayer of Brady Paul dead.

CHAIR VICTIMS SAID INNOCENT IN PAUL DEATH

Arizona Prisoner Claims Irene's Brother Shot State Officer

(By Associated Press)

FLORENCE, ARIZ., Feb. 23.—Joe P. Wells, alias Vernon Ackerman, of Guthrie Okla., companion of Irene Schroeder and W. Glenn Dague when they were captured in Arizona, and now serving a life term in the Arizona penitentiary said last night Tom Crawford, Irene's brother, before dying in his arms in January 1930, said Crawford had fired the shot which killed Corporal Brady Paul.

Mrs. Schroeder and Dague were electrocuted at Rockview penitentiary, early today.

Involved In Slaying
Wells joined them as they fled westward, late in 1929, and was involved in a running fight in Arizona, in which a deputy sheriff was wounded fatally. He was convicted.

The trio was captured near Phoenix, January 14, 1930. Wells at first was believed to be Tom Crawford.

"Tom Crawford is dead from gunshot wounds received in Pennsylvania," Wells asserted. "He made a statement to me while dying in my arms that he fired the shot from the back of the car that killed Paul."

Body Thrown In River
"Crawford's body was thrown by me, into the river at Matamoras, Mexico."

"Were Irene and Dague with you when this happened?" Wells was asked.

"No, but they were nearby. I left them in Brownsville, Texas, near where Crawford died, while I went up the river about a mile and a half to dispose of the body."

"Crawford died either the 9th or 10th of January, 1930."

JUDGES OPPOSE WELFARE PLAN

Would Cost Columbiana County $16,000, Probate Jurist Declares

LISBON, Feb. 23.—Statewide opposition has developed against the passage of senate bill No. 74, known as the "County Welfare Department Bill" it has been announced by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, following a meeting of probate judges and probate officers at Cadiz.

The Ohio Institute, 277 East Long street, Columbus, is said to be the sponsor of the measure, which if approved, would cost the 38 counties in the state approximately $2,000,000 annually.

Would Cost County $16,000
Judge Riddle has pointed out that the passage of this bill would cost Columbiana county $16,000 additional expense, as the measure provides for a county welfare director at a salary of $4,000; two social workers at an annual salary of $2,000 each; three automobiles and upkeep, placed at a cost of $2,000; stenographers and record keepers, $3,000, and additional help costing $3,000.

According to the provisions of the bill, 10 percent would be taken from the $14,000 now appropriated in this county for mothers' pensions and placed to the credit of "welfare work" which is now being administered through the probate and juvenile courts. The measure makes this percentage appropriation by the county commissioners mandatory.

Riddle Opposes Plan
Judge Riddle, in a letter to the "Ohio Institute" opposes an additional tax burden. The court has held that no organization can handle funds raised by taxation for charitable purposes better and more expeditiously than those living in the vicinity and who know conditions and who help pay the taxes.

Tragic Death of Lillian Leitzel Spurs Relatives to Train Successor

Although the Rolling Beat of the Snare Drum Has Been Heard for the Last Time by Noted Aerialiste, Family Tradition Will Be Upheld by Her Seven-Year-Old Niece.

LILLIAN LEITZEL PELIKAN

LILLIAN LEITZEL

NEW YORK—A dark cloud has blotted out a ray of golden sunshine. The fell hand of death has clutched the dainty form of Lillian Leitzel as she swung in midair and carried her away to the real "big top." And so passes away one of the greatest personalities that the circus world has ever known, that circus world where famous families become dynasties with almost royal prerogatives.

Every circus addict both here and in Europe was familiar with the marvelous acrobatic act that the diminutive star staged. Her feat of twisting her body completely over for more than one hundred consecutive turns while suspended in midair by only one arm made her the undisputed queen of the circus world. She was one of the few attractions who worked alone in the ring. No other acts while lovely Lillian did her stuff.

Such a thing was never thought of. For Miss Leitzel received the homage that is accorded only to the great regardless of their field of endeavor. Private dressing rooms, maids, secretaries, private cars on trains all she received. But it never altered her friendly attitude and camaraderie with even the humblest worker under the "Big Top."

It has often been said that

Lillian Leitzel was a fatalist and that she expected to die as the result of an accident similar to that which occurred at the Valencia Music Hall, Denmark. It has become known that Miss Leitzel expressed her forebodings about the engagement to her husband, Alfredo Cordona, the great Mexican trapeze artist. But she took the work despite herself and although the rigging was carefully examined the iron bar that she held with one arm while in midair broke and precipitated her 50 feet to the ground with nothing but a thin rubber mat to break her fall.

Out in Milwaukee, Lillian Leitzel's brother and his family are mourning the loss of the greatest woman in the world so far as they were concerned. Her brother, Alfred Pelikan, is art director of the public schools there and each year Miss Leitzel used to make the trip to Milwaukee to see her brother and her niece. Little seven-year-old Lillian Leitzel Pelikan has for some time been in strict training to emulate Aunt Lillian's breathtaking feats. Her aunt presented her with a trapeze and during each visit spent much of her time teaching her small niece the technique behind the marvelous Leitzel body twists and flip-overs.

Circus people the world over are glad that Lillian has left a successor to her throne as head of the Pelikan circus dynasty. For Lillian was born a Pelikan, member of a famous Bohemian circus troupe. Her grandmother, her mother—who survives her and is still working—her aunt were all famous aerialists.

Accidents, death itself has not deterred the family from continuing to train its youngsters to perform the same breath-taking feats. All of them fatalists, they know that death comes often just as quickly to those who have never even attempted an ordinary somersault or tumble. And that is why little Lillian is training harder than ever. The great Pelikan-Leitzel tradition must be kept intact, must never be allowed to die. Most of the great circus dynasties have been European. The Hannafords, the Gentrys are both famous circus families. The greatest of all aerialists are the Clark-oleans, who for over 75 years have been supreme in their work and who have maintained an unbroken tradition, despite death and accident, right down to the present day. In America the Ringling Brothers are the most famous of all aerialists with a long tradition behind them, while the Davenports are the greatest of all equestrian performers. All these are regarded as royalty by the average circus performer to whom Leitzel was queen.

PRISONERS SHOT IN CHICAGO PEN

Efforts To Escape Results In Death Of Three In State Prison

(By Associated Press)
JOLIET, ILL., Feb. 23.—Prison guards forewarned of an impending plot by prisoners to escape, early yesterday shot to death three Chicago convicts who scaled the wall of the old state penitentiary in a futile dash for liberty.

Aided by a powerful prison searchlight, the guards posted outside the prison walls, with machine guns as their weapons, fanned the three men easy targets and mowed them down before they had a chance to reach two automobiles parked on a roadside near the prison, presumably by confederates.

Occupants of the cars pursued by guards in two automobiles, drove rapidly toward Chicago and escaped.

Joseph Nerikiewicz, 31, and Julio Chleno, 39, both serving time for a confidence game, and Alvin J. Kilman, 34, a convicted robber, were the men killed. They were part of a kitchen detail of five convicts.

STRIBLING LIKES SPEED
LOVES ALL COMPETITION

Bill Stribling has lifted his dukes in professional combat 290 times. He has flown 100,000 miles in 800 hours in the air. He has cracked up twice in 1,200 landings. And the most serious accident he ever had was a fall from a bicycle. He was knocked unconscious and badly battered.

Stribling loves speed. Every time he gets his hands on the wheel of an automobile sensible friends get out and walk. He drives as though he were trying to qualify for the championships.

As a youngster, in Macon, Ga., "W. L." rode a wheel furiously before he ever saw a pair of boxing gloves. When he got enough money together he graduated to a motorcycle. The wind rushing into his face, tearing at his clothes, gives him a tremendous thrill. He holds a transport pilot's license now and owns several planes.

Everything he does in a hurry. He wears everyone out around him, runs up and down stairs, bounces in and out of chairs, rarely has the patience to read for any length of time. He is impatient just before a fight. Cautiousness in critical moments has cost him at least two championship shots. His father and manager, "Pa" Stribling, is white with anxiety during Bill's matches. "Be careful, son, don't get hurt," he tells him between rounds.

Stribling loves any kind of a competition and hates to lose a game or an argument. He plays cards, checkers, dominoes, and with nothing at all at stake, perspires as though he were carrying brick. He argues over every point.

His father believes it is unlucky to pass beggars, whistle in a dressing room, and two accidents will follow the first before the charm is broken. Bill isn't superstitious but he had "Pa" worn out before big fights threatening to violate the supernatural.

Light clothes and bright colors intrigue him and he hates blue serge suits because his mother clothed him in so many of them when he was young. He is almost violent in his likes and dislikes. He plays roughly with his friends and family.

One of Stribling's keenest disappointments was his parents' refusal to let him play football when he was a boy because the game was too rough. All that brawling over a football is his idea of a perfect way to spend an afternoon. His big weakness is ice cream. He fills up at least once a day and often tucks away a large portion before he goes into the ring.

He shoots a gun, steers his plane, and mans a cue stick all with his left hand. He writes and knocks fighters out with his right.

Next winter he intends to try speed boat racing.

Quakers Oppose Lisbon In Opener; Winner Will Clash With Palestine

For probably the first time in district cage history three Columbiana county scholastic cage quintets will clash in the opening round competition of the Northeastern Ohio sectional cage tournament which will start at Warren Harding High gymnasium, Warren, on Wednesday, March 4.

The tournament, scheduled for four days, will bring Salem High toppers into competition with the strong Lisbon High team in the tourney inaugural for both schools with the winner being slated to clash with East Palestine's formidable aggregation. The Salem-Lisbon game will be played at 8 p. m. Wednesday, March 4.

Teams Evenly Matched
Drawings, completed Saturday at Warren, which placed the three county schools in this unprecedented situation, will involve teams that are as evenly matched as probably any other trio of quintets in the district. Salem, Lisbon and Palestine have all clashed in court contests during the current season, none of the games being settled with decisive scores. All of the county battles were close with East Palestine being determined the leading team.

Three games will be played on the opening night of the tournament. Youngstown East battles Niles in the first game at 7 p. m. Salem meeting Lisbon in the second. Warren and Girard clash in the nightcap at 9 p. m.

Second Game On March 6
East Palestine battles the winner of the Salem-Lisbon duel at 8 p. m. Friday, March 6 while the winner of this playoff opposes the survivor in games involving Hubbard vs. Struthers and Youngstown Rayen vs. Campbell Memorial at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, March 7.

Salem's downgrade, showing in basketball games played in the past month has dropped the team's prestige from ranking as one of the leading teams in the district event down lower than it has been in years. The team will by no means enter any game doped as favorite while East Palestine, 1930-31 Columbiana county championship title-winner, has proven its superiority over the Red and Black by defeating the latter in a game at Palestine.

Toledo Team In Top Place With 3010; Toledoans Head Doubles

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—Leaders in two divisions of the Ohio State Bowling association tourney held their leads in week-end competition but tomorrow night another assault will be made on the singles and doubles top scores.

Burt's Foundry of Toledo, five-man team, kept its lead with 3010 while Faultless Cleaners, Marion, took second place by counting 2991 pins. A change in this division saw Hudson-Exerx of Troy go into fifth with 2959.

In the doubles F. Seibert and F. Rahtz of Toledo took first place by bowling a count of 1,240. Tzavakos and H. Sanders of Dayton went into second with 1,231 points.

W. Glass, Steubenville, still led the singles division with his 685 but last night W. Zimmerle, Dayton shot into second with 682.

The all events standing is now led by Sanders of Dayton with 1936.

Salem Saxons Lose To Cleveland Five

First English Lutheran church toppers from Cleveland defeated the Salem Saxons, 35-30, in an exciting cage duel at the Memorial building here Saturday night.

Work of three Price brothers, who amassed 32 of their team's total points, led Cleveland to the victory. Older starred for Salem with 11 points.

WELLSVILLE TOSSERS BEAT SALEM HIGH IN TWIN BILL SATURDAY

Result Of Contest Places Palestine In Lead In County Race

Held scores for the last three periods of play, Salem High's varsity basketball team was overwhelmed by Wellsville High, 29-13, in a dismal cage spectacle at Wellsville Saturday night.

Powerless against a strong Tiger defense, Salem, after tallying 13 points in the first quarter, went without a point during the remaining three periods. Salem amassed a 13-5 lead in the first eight minutes of play, Wellsville knotting the count at the half at 13-11.

Tigers Start Drive
Starting the third period the Tigers broke out in a scoring spree that soon left Coach Floyd Stone's quintet far in arrears, the count at the three-quarter mark being 21-13.

Coach Stone, dissatisfied with the showing of his regulars, pulled four of his starting players, inserting his reserve talent but they too, failed to score.

The result of the game gave East Palestine High first place in the county titular race. Palestine opposes East Liverpool at Palestine this Friday night, the championship hinging on the result of this fracas. If Liverpool defeats the Brown and White, thereby staging one of the year's biggest upsets, the Red and Black will be tied with Wellsville for titular honors.

Salem Lassies Lose

Salem lassies were trounced by Wellsville High lassies, 41-23, in Saturday's preliminary tussle. Ruth Jones's offensive work went for naught as the Tiger maids ran wild to register 17 field goals and seven free throws.

Now for Something Good to Eat

You soon tire of a restaurant that has only seven bills of fare—one for each day of the week, and then back to the beginning again.

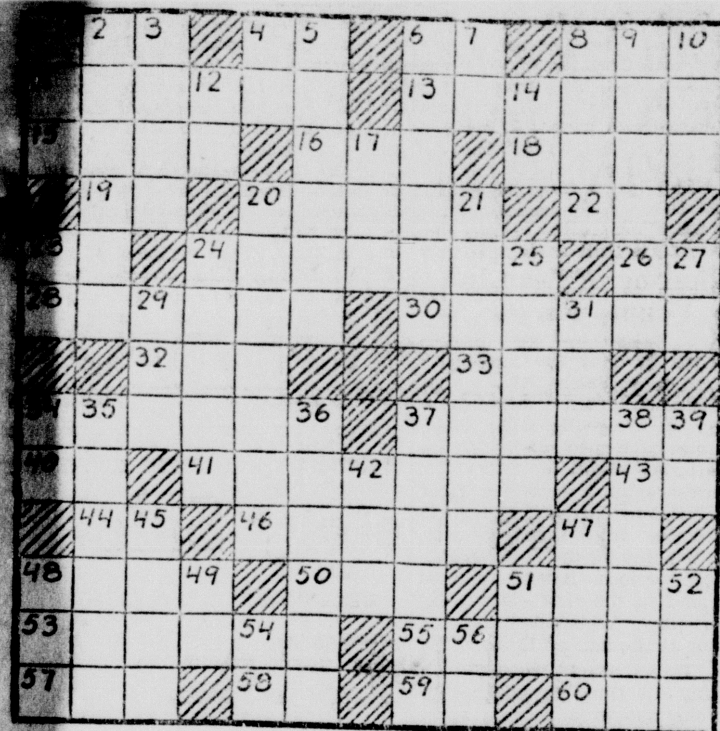

The two things that make a restaurant good are good food and lots of variety. Good food includes good cooking, and variety includes exploring the provision markets for the countless things that can be served, in season or out.

The pleasure of eating at any of the restaurants at Hotel Winton is increased by the wide variety of choice—a menu that is easy to read—a list of fixed price breakfasts, luncheons and dinners—a number of specials for which the house is famous, and—always—good foods properly prepared.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

A Schedule Means Leisure, Not Slavery!

"Rule off my day into half hour periods. I guess not. Why I might just as well be in the slavery of the classroom," objected the young housekeeper, who had gladly given up her teaching job when she married.

This notion that by adhering to a definite schedule one is tied down is widespread and opposed to the fact, as anyone who has given a schedule a trial will admit. To the woman who has a day crowded with many duties a schedule can be the only salvation—the only way in which she can be sure of time off for resting, reading, or recreation.

To begin with, what is a schedule? The word means a written statement of detail, but as applied to home making it has come to mean a detailed planning of the day's work. First, know exactly what has to be done; second assign to it a time.

Many women admit that this definite decision about what must be done each day at a certain hour saves time. In a busy household where there is little or no help the overwhelmed homemaker often wastes time in sheer indecision, wondering what on earth to do first, or sitting down in despair when she contemplates all the things that ought to be finished.

Busy people in the professions and business get an enormous amount of work done by the schedule method. Assigning a certain amount of time to each job may mean that occasionally one has to hasten a bit. But it also means that the time marked off each day for leisure—whether it be hours or minutes—will be free.

While of course it would not be the most wholesome thing for any woman to rush madly through all the day's work it must also be said that the freedom from supervision makes many a home woman dawdle. She takes an hour to do slowly what should easily be accomplished in half the time at a comfortable speed. Speeding up a little on the routine jobs will mean that much more margin for the rest period.

SHOULD THE CHILDREN EAT IT?

PARENTS, particularly mothers, are paying a lot of attention to children's diet these days. For it is far more economical and pleasant to keep a child well by feeding him correctly than by nursing and doctoring him back to health.

Of course the doctor should be consulted regarding what a child should eat and what he should not eat. But do you realize that the leading manufacturers of food now seek the advice and approval of the leading nutritional authorities in the country, relative to the claims they make for their products in their advertising?

In other words, food advertisements are reliable sources of information regarding diet. They are based upon the results of the latest approved scientific discoveries about vitamins, minerals and roughage, in relation to vigorous bodies, clear complexions, sound teeth and properly regulated systems.

So read these advertisements carefully. Consult your doctor about them. Very often the advertiser invites you to do this because he has asked authorities, whom your doctor respects, about those advertisements first.

Don't stop with reading the news and editorials.

Ohio-Edison Asks Change In Rates

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 23.—The Youngstown division of the Ohio Edison Co., has petitioned the public utility commission to change the rates for the tariffs governing retail rates applicable to suburban and rural territory adjacent to Youngstown and power rates aspersed by the company in Ashtabula, Trumbull, Mahoning and Columbiana counties.

The tariffs, to become effective March 10 if approved, would result in an annual saving of $11,600 to residential service users and of $2,300 to those using retail commercial service, according to the petition.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting
Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's prescription, HEM-ROID, succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing that Lease Drug Co. and Broadway Lease Drug Store says one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back.

MOVIES

In Talkie Role

Nancy Carroll is starred in "Laughter", appearing at the Grand tonight and Tuesday.

"LAUGHTER"
At The Grand
"Laughter" featuring Nancy Carroll, comes to the Grand theater tonight.

"Laughter" is a vehicle which gives full opportunity to Miss Carroll for a display of her emotional capabilities. Throughout the tense action of the play Miss Carroll sweeps along in a superb portrayal of an ex-Pollies girl who, as the wife in a mismatched marriage, tries to be loyal—and is, but who always seems to be victimized by the irony of circumstances.

Fredric March, as a young pianist-composer who had been in love with Nancy prior to her marriage to Frank Morgan, the rich broker, comes into the picture as a romantic menace.

A series of unfortunate events gets Nancy more and more into ill-favor with Morgan. Finally she is accused of the death of a young sculptor. She eventually proves her innocence, but the scandal has been too much for her long-suffering husband, and he breaks off with her.

There is a romantic rebound from the earlier love with March which covers the finale of the picture.

"AFRICA SPEAKS"
At The State

Thrilling and rare entertainment occupies the screen of the State theater where "Africa Speaks" an African adventure film with sound effects is playing.

This film, released by Columbia Pictures, depicts the absorbing adventures of Paul L. Hoeffler, Colorado explorer, on a daring trip through the hitherto unexplored regions of the dark continent. From a scenic standpoint it is magnificent, while the intimate glimpses of native life are fascinating from a news value.

Apparently Hoeffler and his courageous band managed to penetrate into the deepest jungles of the big continent. Practically every type of native is shown from the giant Wasara of the French Congo, to the pygmies of the Ituri forest, who seldom reach a height of 57 inches. Religious rites and tribal dances of these natives are among the features of the production. Many of their customs, heretofore a mystery, are revealed.

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)
